FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Let's be Heroes

It's all in how you look at it. "Restrictions" makes us feel like victims. "Protective Measures" makes us feel like we are the heroes. Here at the Library—we choose to be heroes!

So yes, this means things will be different again. We will be monitoring how many people are in the building so you may need to ring the doorbell to gain entry. We will insist that you to wear a facemask at all times while you are in the library. We will be wearing ours too! We will all be social distancing as much as possible. You will NOT need to show proof of vaccination. The library will be open to everyone, just with protective measures in place.

If you choose not to enter the library, our Grab & Go service and online resources are still available to you. Just call 780-624-4076 for more information.

Many programs will switch to virtual formats or take-home kits. Some will continue in person with modifications.

Remember, you can be a hero too!

Collection of the Alberta Foundation of the Arts

Featuring portraits of women by 15 female artists, this exhibit spans from 1947 to 2015. The works highlight and celebrate the vast scope of femininity and female psyche through the eyes of women.

This female focused exhibit was created in response to the findings discussed in a 2011 Canadian Art magazine article about statistics from 2002 that found, despite women making up 65% of living artists, only make up 26% of solo shows.
